My partner, Avery Hillstrom (my sister), did most of the project. She started it on her Github before eventually inviting me. While she worked on her page (Top Ten Shiny Pokemon), I worked on my page (Top Ten SSB Final Smashes). She had already worked on most of the landing page on her own since she started before inviting me, while I just added a few details to it.

All in all, Avery is a really good partner but could be a better sister (lol jk).
